

Fr. Alexander Atty to speak in Inverness

Fr. Alexander Atty, Dean of St. Tikhon's Theological Seminary and Pastor Extraordinaire will be speaking on

The Prodigal Son: repentance and forgiveness

Fr. Alexander received his Bachelor's of Science in Engineering from Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science. After a short engineering career, he enrolled in St. Vladimir's Theological Seminary in Crestwood, NY. In 1979 he graduated and was ordained to the priesthood.

In May of 1980, Fr. Alexander was assigned the pastorate of St. Michael the Archangel Orthodox Church in Louisville, Kentucky. During his priesthood, Fr. Alexander traveled frequently to Mount Athos where he was blessed to have an Athonite spiritual father. In addition to his pastoral duties, Fr. Alexander served as the Head Chaplain for the Jefferson County Police Department, the Louisville Metro Police Department, and was the Chaplain for the Louisville Field Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

During his 30 year tenure at St. Michael's, Fr. Alexander was responsible for the extraordinary physical, liturgical and spiritual growth of St. Michael Orthodox Church in Louisville, KY. In 2008, Fr. Alexander earned his Doctorate of Ministry from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. In 2010 he was appointed Dean of St. Tikhons' Orthodox Theological Seminary in South Canaan, PA and tasked to educate and lead a new generation of seminarians for service in Christ's vineyard.
